"A codfish lays a thousand eggs,
The trusty hen but one;
But the codfish doesn't cackle
To tell you what she's done.

And so the codfish eggs we spurn,
While the trusty hen we prize;
Which says to you and me, my friends,
That it pays to advertise."

PROVINCIAL SEED FAIR SUCCESSFUL

In both number and quality of exhibits the Alberta Seed Fair held in Calgary during the past week was the most successful in the history of the province. All grains, seeds and vegetables were well represented, competition for the awards was keen, and in addition to many of the veteran exhibitors, the list of newcomers includes a number of new growers who are on land with splendid crops. Interesting features of the show were a number of samples of the grain which were prize at the Chicago International 1927. The Commercial Life trophy for the highest quality of any two farm crops was again won by Stewart Treadwell, with H. G. L. Strang a very close runner-up.

At the annual meeting of the Alberta Seed Growers' Association plans were made to promote a campaign advertising the use of better seed grains throughout the province, in order to combat the spread of noxious weeds and to maintain the high standard of Alberta's grain production. A suggestion was made that the number of wheat-growing farms in the province be increased, and that definite information be made available to farmers as to the most suitable variety of wheat for the high standard of Alberta's grain production.

Emphasis was laid on the advisability of using good Marquis seed in districts where the length of growing season permits this variety of wheat, and farmers were advised not to abandon this method of recognized quality for newer untested varieties unless under very exceptional conditions.

tional committees. Efforts were paid to the work of the Provincial Seed Committee, and the following exhibits in securing a supply of high class seed grain for the farmers of the province.

The growing importance of the noxious weed problem was stressed, and the active co-operation of farmers was urged to keep these weeds under check, and their control the serious conditions which have arisen in other countries. An interesting feature of the show was an exhibit of noxious, fiddly crops, and garden seeds from the C. P. R. Demonstration Farm at Brooks, illustrating the possibilities of farming upon irrigation methods.

At the business meeting of the Alberta Seed Growers' Association the following officers were elected for 1928:—Hon. President, G. H. Stark, Brooks; Vice-President, A. C. B. Grenville, Morley; Secretary, Treasurer, W. J. Stephens; Managing Director, W. J. Stephens; District Director, H. C. L. Strang; Delia Seed Growers' Association, H. G. L. Strang; Delia Seed Growers' Association, H. G. L. Strang.

He put on his hat and crossed the street to the building, where he had planned a display to the showroom.

"The things I planned must will," he said. "Do not proceed with the work. Hard times are coming. We must economize. When conditions improve, we will call you in. But I cannot invent money in the face of hard times."

When the drummer left, the dealer at the building, who had been told that the dealer was coming, said to his friend, "My dear artist friend, I must postpone sitting for my picture. We are going to have hard times and I think it best to wait until things have settled before indulging in this expense. Hard times you know must be regarded."

When the artist received the letter, he went to the cafe. He ordered a small bottle—"just enough," he said, to mouth him. Starting at once from nearly every newspaper he had seen two days before. He

With its tender, the locomotive weighs 365,000 pounds, and it was turned over to W. A. Kingsland, general manager of the western region, by A. H. Eager, general superintendent of motive power, who has charge of its construction. Three others of the same class are now being built at Transcona and will follow it into service early this year. CONSIDER THE NEWSPAPER

Where do you obtain a knowledge of current events, politics, and the greater part of your education?

From your newspaper.

When your merchants need information, through what medium do they obtain it?

When the community and the churches, schools, or other organizations of the community need information to community action and co-operation, to what do they appeal?

Your newspaper.

There are some of the reasons why the newspaper is your newspaper.

It is a wide-awake newspaper.

The first duty of a newspaper is to transmit to its readers the news of the activities of the community at home and abroad, but the value of that other department of the daily newspaper—advertising—is a definite, and a far-reaching one.

The public anticipates its shopping by scanning the advertisements in the newspapers and the merchants take advantage of this opportunity.

Advertising is a mutual proposition between all concerned.

It is the rise of present information newspaper advertising the public was powerless to plan its buying. Money, time and goods.

HEALTH

It is often difficult to give a meaning to words which we use every day. One of those words is "health."

Health is not a word which is healthy and yet, when asked to explain what we mean, we likely find it almost impossible to put our meaning in words.

In the first place, when we are healthy we are free from all obvious disease. That perhaps is the commonest idea of health.

As a matter of fact, such people are not necessarily healthy in any thing like the full meaning of the word. Freedom from actual disease is a definite, but health is far more than that.

Health is something positive—something that brings happiness into life. The person who has health finds the day's work with confidence, finds pleasure in his occupation, is able to do better work and can fully enjoy the hours of relaxation.

It is surprising the number of people who spend a more or less of their lives in the pursuit of the things which they are capable because they have not health.

These many people are surprised when, on a medical examination, they learn that there is something wrong with their bodies; something not serious enough to cause them to alter their mode of living, but which, if they do not alter it, will in their daily life and, perhaps, to make them grow prematurely old.

There are those who mistake the happiness that comes with health, and yet are free from any physical ailment. These are the people who follow the simple rules of hygienic living.

We cannot rob our bodies of rest, fresh food, and clean air, and continue to have health.

Health is a condition of physical well-being that comes to those who are free from all physical ailments and who follow the simple rules of hygienic living.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered. Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.
